

Today's students. Tomorrow's business professionals.

March 10, 2008

To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to recommend Mr. Grant Baldwin as a professional speaker and workshop presenter for your consideration. Mr. Baldwin recently served as a keynote speaker, workshop presenter and master of ceremonies during the 2008 Delaware State Leadership Conference for Business Professionals of America. He successfully captivated, motivated and inspired both our middle and high school students through his enthusiastic and targeted presentations. Mr. Baldwin was acutely aware of students' diverse learning styles and backgrounds and provided presentations that blended audience participation, laughter and times of quiet self reflection.

Mr. Baldwin was a positive influence and presence throughout the entire conference. When he was not with an audience during this three-day event, he spent time mingling with students and getting to know them on a personal level. His "downtime" was spent having dinner with our state officers, listening to their aspirations, and sharing stories that encouraged them to strive for their own personal success. Mr. Baldwin's commitment to our youth was evident in all of his interactions with the state officers, students and advisors. He truly cares about the future of our youth and is an inspiration for all he comes into contact with.

Once again, it is my pleasure to recommend Mr. Grant Baldwin as a professional speaker and youth motivator. His approach and delivery is pointed and effective as he seamlessly blends an inspirational message with humor appropriate for audiences of all ages and backgrounds. Please feel free to contact me at (302) 857-3320 or lstoner@doe.k12.de.us if I can provide support for Mr. Baldwin or additional information for your organization.

Sincerely,

Lisa Stoner, Education Associate
Business and Marketing Education
Delaware Department of Education